Firm to host webinar on the Canadian anti-spam legis

Do you send commercial electronic messages to any Canadian consumers or Canadian businesses? If so, join Dickinson Wright Attorneys Wendy Hulton and Dan Ujczko for an insightful webinar on Canada's Anti-Spam Legislation (CASL) from 3-4 p.m. on June 12.

The CASL begins on July 1 and will affect all businesses that send commercial electronic messages (CEMs) to either consumers or businesses in Canada. CEMs may include e-mails, voicemails, text messages, social media, and instant messaging. If you wish to continue sending email to Canadian consumers and businesses after July 1, you need to understand how to comply with CASL.

Detroit lawyer speaks at IBA Litigation Forum in Montreal

Frederick A. Acomb, Chair of the International Dispute Resolution Section at the law firm of Miller Canfield, spoke as a panelist at the 18th Annual International Bar Association (IBA) Litigation Forum in Montreal, Quebec, Canada on May 14.

The topic was "Strategies for Controlling the Costs of Discovery Across Borders," with a focus on imaginative strategies for obtaining documents in multiple countries as quickly and inexpensively as possible.

Fellow panelists included lawyers from White & Case (London), Blake Cassels & Graydon (Toronto), Bell Canada (Toronto), and IBM (NY). The discussion was moderated by the General Counsel of Japan Tobacco International SA (Geneva).

Acomb is a partner at the firm. For more than 20 years, he has devoted his practice to prosecuting and defending international arbitration and litigation matters for clients from all over the world.

His work regularly takes him around the globe, and he has appeared before arbitration tribunals in multiple continents including Asia, Europe, and North America. Acomb serves on the External Advisory Committee of the Program for International Legal Studies at Wayne State University Law School.
